

LEVELS OF EDUCATION NEEDED

Level 4: To get into these jobs you usually need to have completed a recognised degree or diploma course, or be equally as skilled and experienced in the area.

Level 3: Occupations in this group usually mean you need to have completed secondary education and/or work skills training which is related to the job. Attendance at a post-secondary institution is often required.

Level 2: Occupations in this group do not usually require completion of secondary education: however, further part-time study and on-the-job training are often required.

Level 1: These occupations do not generally ask for any specific standard of education.
